

SATURDAY, Aug. 2, 2008

10:00 AM—1:30 PM

1000 Commodore Drive
San Bruno CA

Near the Shops at Tanforan, off of El Camino
650-238-3488

www.archives.gov/pacific/san-francisco/index

CAMP ARCHIVES WORKSHOP

CAMP ARCHIVES WORKSHOP

National Archives Records Administration Pacific Region, San Bruno

Camp Archives Day at the National Archives
Saturday, August 2, 10:00 AM-1:30 PM
1000 Commodore Drive, San Bruno, CA 94066-2350
FREE, advanced registration required

The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) Pacific Region in association with the National Japanese American Historical Society presents a special Saturday workshop to introduce you to the resources held by the National Archives and how to access the files so you can uncover your family's camp files during World War II.

You'll learn the basics; the kind of information that can be found from camp lists, an internee's War Relocation Authority family folder and other little used sources along with research tips. NARA archivists can assist you in conducting preliminary research to get you started. Upon RSVPing, please let us know the family member's name and camp information so that we help start the process of finding your relatives files. NARA is typically closed on Saturdays and this workshop is an exclusive opportunity to explore the archives on a weekend. Families are welcome, best suited for children 10 and above. Space is limited to 20 people. Please RSVP to NJAHS (415) 921-5007.

- Tanforan family files
- How to obtain your WRA camp records
- Archives overview

CAMP ARCHIVES WORKSHOP

National Archives Records Administration –Pacific
Region in association with the National Japanese American Historical Society
1000 Commodore Drive Bruno , CA 94066
www.archives.gov/pacific/san-francisco/index

RSVP to NJAHS: 415-921-5007
Fax: 415-921-5087
E-mail: njajs@njajs.org

